A thousand trails. A thousand sunsets. A thousand steps up to that summit. A thousand things you haven’t done yet. Just waiting on you to get out the door. A thousand fish you could be hookin’. A thousand s’mores you could be cookin’. Forget those chores. You should be bookin’ down the road because it’s time you found what you’ve been lookin’ for. In the sun of the Florida Keys, up in those Oregon pine trees, under the stars in that Sonoran Desert sky. Zip line the California coast. Spearfish the Gulf of Mexico. Soak in a hot tub sippin’ cold ones every night. And if the folks back home get jealous, just tell ‘em, “Hey, we’re sorry fellas!” You’re welcome to come out and see us. You’ll find us somewhere pretty close to paradise. Down with the RVs, warm breeze, jeans with ripped knees, flip flops, horse clops, good times, non stop, yurts and cabins, covered wagons, if you need me I’ll be in the back road trippin’est, burger flippin’est, swim suit drippin’est, hey Mom looks at this, place the good Lord’s ever let me see. A thousand trails for you. A thousand trails for me.

A thousand trails for you and me.
